

Best Year

This could be the best year of our lives
If we tear up the rule book
Leave it all behind
You work all day
'till you close your eyes
Let's get outta this town
Find some bluer skies

And I feel the good times coming
And I see a new sun rising
Don't wait, it's on the horizon
This could be, the best year of our lives

Thinking about it, I don't know why we waited so long
Sitting there at that desk was never where I belonged
Now we'll take this chance do something of our own
Fly across an ocean, move a thousand miles from home

And I feel the good times coming
And I see a new sun rising
A blue sky and an endless horizon
This could be the best year of our lives

Sometimes life offers a chance, just one moment falls in your hands
Win or lose, wrong or right, life is all about the ride

And I feel the good times coming
And I see a new sun rising
Don't wait, it's on the horizon
This could be, the best year of our lives

To Be Loved By You

Oh I dreamed there could be
One perfect guy created just for me
To give me love and know just what I need
Now you've made me believe

And I don't know how it's true
And I don't know how I found you
But I love that you love me the way that you do
Cos it's more than anyone deserves
To be loved by you

One look at you is enough
To make me smile whenever life's too much
And when I'm down, you lift me way way up
I'm flyin' when we touch

And I don't know how it's true
And I don't know how I found you
But I love that you love me the way that you do
Cos it's more than anyone deserves
To be loved by you

And I don't know how it's true
And I don't know how I found you
But I love that you love me the way that you do
Cos it's more than anyone deserves
To be loved by you

Nothing You Say

Late at night and I'm lying beside you
Don't know why, you turn away
Look at the stars they seem to know where we are Don't let them see, you turn away

When you lie here in my arms, and I feel you
I could drown in your heart, right here

Nothing you say could ever make me walk away
I'm here till the end, and here I will stay

There's nothing to run from
I'm here to lean on
Don't turn away

Won't you lie here in my arms, let me love you
I could drown in your heart, right here

Nothing you say could ever make me walk away
I'm here till the end, and here I will stay
Nothing you say could ever make me walk away
I'm here till the end, and here I will stay

Here tonight,
I give my life
Here tonight

Nothing you say could ever make me walk away
I'm here till the end, and here I will stay

It Was Meant To Be

It was meant to be
And better than I could believe
Something we can hold on to
Till the stars burn out

You are here with me
Closer than you've ever been
I am you and you are me
The lines are fading out

Lay down your weary heart
Stay by my side
And I promise I'll be here
Till we run out of time

Always meant to be
Like the world turns endlessly
We will keep on growing tall
Reaching to the clouds

Lay down your weary heart
Stay by my side
And I promise I'll be here
Till we run out of time

It was meant to be
Floating on a summer breeze
Rising as we fall so deep
In each other's arms

Like a flower needs
Sun and water to succeed
I need you so I can breathe
That's how it's meant to be
You are here with
And that's how it's meant to be

Close My Eyes

Silence fills the room
I'm lying here alone
I pull the covers close
Cos the space you left is cold

And I want you with me
Just to stay close to me
Where are you now
Will you find me somehow?

If I close my eyes
I can bring you here with me tonight
And I won't ask for anymore
When I see you through that door

The snow is softly falling
It's like the world just stopped still
And I know you hear me calling
Come home to me
Will you come home to me?

If I close my eyes
I can bring you here with me tonight
And I won't ask for anymore
When I see you through that door

If I close my eyes
I can bring you here with me tonight
If I close my eyes
I can bring you here with me tonight
And I won't ask for anymore
When I see you through that door
And I won't ask for anymore
When I see you through that door

Sweet Surrender

Six in the evening and I'm waiting at the lights
I don't wanna be there finish yesterday's fight
So I think I'll just keep driving into the darkness of the night

Cos I don't wanna be there when you open up the door
I can't face another day no I can't take no more
So I think I'll just keep going, miss the turning in the road

And maybe just maybe you will never know

Sweet surrender is all that's left of me
And I don't want to remember the man you used to be
Sweet sweet surrender of this love is all that I can see

When I close my eyes and think back to the night I first saw you
It's fading like the memory of early morning dew
And I told myself so many times you would change but somehow I knew
That I'd find a way of going back, watch you break my heart in two

Sweet surrender is all that's left of me
And I don't want to remember the man you used to be
Sweet sweet surrender of this love is all that I can see

Waking up alone in this silent hotel room
Can't believe you ever talked me into loving you
But there's no use trying to forget
All the years that I've lived through
Cos they made me who I am
Somehow I found the strength to walk away

Sweet surrender is all that's left of me
And I don't want to remember the girl I used to be
It only makes me stronger when I see what I've become Sweet surrender of this love is the best thing that I've done

Look Around

We all get lost
Lose our way
When you feel alone
I'll be there, to lead you home

When you come unravelled
When the lights turn out
When darkness calls you
I'll be there, there to hold you

Just look around
I'm there beside you, standing by you
Look around
When the world lets go I won't let you fall
I'll be there through it all

When you fear tomorrow
When you've done it all
When you look back on your mistakes
I'll be there, whatever it takes

Just look around
I'm there beside you, standing by you
Look around
When the world lets go I won't let you fall
I'll be there through it all

Look around
I'm there beside you, standing by you
Look around
When the world lets go I won't let you fall
Baby look around
I'm there beside you, standing by you
Look around
When the world lets go I won't let you fall
I'll be there through it all

The Only Thing Real

We've traded all our heroes for tabloid magazines
And everything we do is something we've already seen
We're all just trying to fit in here
Caught somewhere between saint and sinner

We need the best of everything no matter what the cost
We fly into that wishing well like a penny that's been tossed
But it's a finish line impossible to cross
Even for the winner

Will we ever learn the right thing to hold
The call of our hearts, diamonds and gold
With all that we want
The love that we feel, Is the only thing real

I've heard it said an empty heart never will regret
All the things a heavy heart never can forget
But hearts were made for breaking
If yours ain't broken yet you ain't livin'

You can spend your whole life waiting
Searching for a sign
Everybody finds their way somewhere down the line
Let's drink a toast, make the most of all the love and time that we've been given

Will we ever learn the right thing to hold
The call of our hearts, diamonds and gold
With all that we want
The love that we feel, Is the only thing real

Will we ever learn the right thing to hold
The call of our hearts, diamonds and gold
With all that we want
The love that we feel
Is the only thing real

Get Me Through Tonight

Sometimes life deals you the wrong hand
Sometimes luck ain't on your side
It gives no answers you can understand
You feel so alone all you wanna do is fall down

And they say life is for the living
But who takes care of broken souls?
It's like you took my spirit with you
With that last breath that you owned

So if there's anybody listening
Anyone who cries these tears
Show me how to keep believing in this life
Now the one I love's not here
And if my days are filled with sorrow
Somehow I'll learn to survive
I don't care about tomorrow
Just get me through tonight

If there's anybody listening
Anyone who cries these tears
Show me how to keep believing in this life
Now the one I love's not here
And if my days are filled with sorrow
Somehow I'll learn to survive
I don't care about tomorrow
Just get me through tonight

I don't care about tomorrow

Smile

There's not many people bring me to life like you do
You've gotta a way with words
On days when the world's closing in around me
You take away all that hurts

Some things you just can't hide
You may never understand why

You make me smile
Every time, I breathe you in and I'm strong
I want you to know that you're where I will always belong

It takes a lot to keep my attention
Somehow you've got me hanging on
And every time I get myself into a situation
You put right what was wrong

Some things you just can't hide
Like that look in your eyes

Makes me smile
Every time, I breathe you in and I'm strong
I want you to know that you're where I will always belong

Even when the times get rough
Even when I've had enough
Even when I think I can't go on Every morning I wake up
Every time I feel your touch
I'm hanging on

To your smile
Every time, I breathe you in and I'm strong
I want you to know that you're where I belong
You make me smile
Every time, I breathe you in and I'm strong
I want you to know that you're where I will always belong
Oh I want you to know that you're where I will always belong

Edge of Love

Do you ever get the feeling
You're in out of your depth?
And the water keeps rising over your head

Maybe, I'm wrong
Maybe I should play along
But I know, I'm not that strong

This time's the last time, I'm leaving
No more crying I'm drying these tears
Miles of memories, leading us down this road
One step from falling off the edge of love

Lately I've been thinking
We're going round in circles now
Whatever I do, it's never enough

So maybe I should go,
Maybe I'll just never know
Till I leave you, leave you behind

This time's the last time, I'm leaving
No more crying, I'm drying these tears
Miles of memories, leading us nowhere
One step from falling off the edge of love

This time's the last time, I'm leaving
No more crying, I'm drying these tears
Miles of memories, leading us down this road
One step from falling off the edge of love
I'm one step from falling off the edge of love

If Only For Tonight

Sometimes there is nothing to say
But here I lie
And look at you all day

There's a warm light drifting in
And it's alright
Till tomorrow begins

And we can leave all things behind
We're the only ones living tonight

Keep dreaming and the world will leave us behind
Keep falling for this moment, right here you're mine
If only for tonight

I wake with you all around
But there's a weight
That keeps me tied to the ground

And the simple question remains
Don't know when we'll be here again

Keep dreaming and the world will leave us behind
Keep falling for this moment right here you're mine
If only for tonight

Sometimes there is nothing to say
But here I lie
And look at you all day

And the simple question remains
Don't know when I'll see you again
